Preface

The Presidents' Athletic Conference, built on the basic principle that an athletic program is an integral part of college life, but not an entity in itself, looks back on years of growth and development and ahead to years of continued success.

It is a unique organization in this day of high pressure intercollegiate athletics. Institutions involved realize that the key components to its progress lie in the foundation of faith and trust in each member by each other member.

The PAC was the result of a realization that college athletics, despite numerous virtues for the individual and institution, were gradually becoming a financial and academic burden. If athletics were to be continued, action had to be taken to place the program on its proper level. This included the premise that benefits of participation should be provided to as many students as possible. For this reason, the PAC maintains a program of nineteen different intercollegiate sports and at the same time encourages strong intramural programs at each of the member institutions.

It is the conviction of its members that the PAC is the solution to the dilemma of intercollegiate athletic competition, and they have staked their athletic future on this premise. Growth of the conference in the Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky area is a distinct possibility, but not necessary to its continued success. The Presidents' Athletic Conference and its members firmly believe that competitive athletics offer an important educational and experience and recreation to participating students and serve as a center for campus spirit and loyalties. It is essential that the athletic program provide these values to as large a number of students as possible and at a level commensurate with their individual skills. The goal of this record is to display the achievements by the student-athletes of the institutions of the Presidents' Athletic Conference.

Chapter 1

Conference Overview

Presidents' Athletic Conference Timeline of Development

Year	Event
1955	-Western Reserve University, John Carroll University and Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland, and Wayne State University come together to form the Presidents' Athletic Conference
1958	-Four more schools join the PAC. They were Allegheny College in Meadville, PA, Bethany College in Bethany, WV, Thiel College in Greenville, PA, and Washington and Jefferson College in Washington, PA.
1962	-The University of Ypsilanti (Eastern Michigan) was accepted in May 1962.
1966	-Wayne State and Eastern Michigan withdrew from the Conference following the 1966-67 season
1967	-The PAC gained another unique characteristic, as Case Institute of Technology and Western Reserve University federated into a new school known as Case Western Reserve University. The undergraduate student bodies remained separate, however, and both Case Tech and Adelbert College (the male undergraduate school of the former Western Reserve University) continued to field separate teams.
1968	-Carnegie Mellon enters the PAC
1970	-Case Western Reserve as one team, no long fielding teams as - Case Tech and Adelbert.
1972	-Hiram College in Ohio joins the PAC
1983	-Allegheny College and Case Western Reserve leave the PAC following the 1983-84 season
1984	-Grove City College joins the PAC
1984-85	-Women's athletics begin competition in the PAC
1988	-John Carroll University leaves the PAC
1989	-Carnegie Mellon University and Hiram College leave the PAC
1990	-Waynesburg College joins the PAC
1996	-Alfred College (NY) joins the PAC
1998	-Alfred College (NY) leaves the PAC
2000	-Westminster College joins the PAC
2005	-Thomas More College in Kentucky joins the PAC
2006	-Saint Vincent College joins the PAC
2007	-Geneva College and Chatham College join the PAC
